Relationship Between Exponential and Logarithm The logarithmic functions  $\log_b x$  and the exponential functions  $b^x$  are inverse of each other, hence  $y = \log_b x$  is equivalent to  $x = b^y$  where  $b$  is the common base of the exponential and the logarithm. The above equivalence helps in solving logarithmic and exponential functions and needs a deep understanding.

Subtraction is an arithmetic operation that represents the operation of removing objects from a collection. The result of a subtraction is called a difference. Subtraction is signified by the minus sign (−). For example, in the adjacent picture, there are 5 − 2 apples—meaning 5 apples with 2 taken away, which is a total of 3 apples. Therefore, the difference of 5 and 2 is 3, that is, 5 ...
