A one-step equation is as straightforward as it sounds. You will only need to perform one step in order to solve the equation. One goal in solving an equation is to have only variables on one side of the equal sign and numbers on the other side of the equal sign. The other goal is to have the number in front of the variable equal to one. The strategy for getting the variable by itself with a ...

Solving a literal equation follows the same rules as solving a linear equation. So what is a literal equation and how do you solve them? A literal equation differs from other equations because you are not solving for a specific value for a specific variable. For example, many times you are looking for a value for x that will make an equation true. In a literal equation, you are simply ...
