From the ancient Egyptian mummifications to 18th century scientific research on "globules" and neurons, there is evidence of neuroscience practice throughout the early periods of history. The early civilizations lacked adequate means to obtain knowledge about the human brain. Their assumptions about the inner workings of the mind, therefore, were not accurate.

William Barclay the False Teacher Richard Hollerman We are convinced that many people do not realize how widespread false teaching is in our day. They simply “go to church” or accept “church membership” and fail to have spiritual discernment regarding what is taught by the pastor, preacher, or priest. They just assume that all is well; otherwise, the [...]
